

Abraxas Reporting

Effective reporting system

Abraxas Reporting is designed for representing, designing, printing, publishing, distribution, and protecting reports, as well as administrating beforehand ready reports for business use.

Security. Program uses user names and passwords, which are connected to domain system of user names to access data. Domain users are sorted in groups with defined rights.

Representation and printing of beforehand ready reports

Export of reports into popular formats such as PDF, TXT, CSV, XML, MS Excel, MS Word and others.

Automated distribution of reports thru e-mail assures that reports will be delivered to the right persons on time.

Powerful scheduler. Since reports often need to be created and distributed in specified time intervals, we implemented mechanism with advanced scheduler, which prepares data for reporting. Mechanism executes appropriate SQL clauses, saved procedures or functions on the underlying data warehouse or other database. System prepares reports, exports them and optionally distributes them when data is ready. System also offers you to define desired schedule in a more advanced and efficient way (with the help of Visual Basic Script Expressions).

Abraxas Reporting includes Work-flow, which gives you control over chronology tracking and confirmation of separate steps.
